$5,555 VALUE

Breindy Goldstein
SEMINARY STUDENT

So my machaneches told me that kiruv rechakim is like super important. It's literally what's going to bring moshiach!

Like we went to the kosel for mincha erev Yom Kippur katan as a siyum for our 40 days at the kosel and like you can do that another 40 times which is so special, but it doesn't compare to getting 1 boy to switch from a public school to yeshiva! Totally giving my maser toward this cause!

Prize #6

$8,000 VALUE

Rabbi Paysach Krohn

PROLIFIC SPEAKER

A trip to Europe can be life changing.
You'll be inspired by the places to daven such as the kever of the Rebbi, Reb Elimelech of Lizhensk,
the kever of the Rama and the yeshiva of Reb
Mayer Shapiro...the concentration camps of Auschwitz and Majdomek.

Prize #13

$7,000 MASTERCARD

Yosef Flohr
CORPORATE EVENT PLANNER

When I was scouring the Auction book for potential prizes one year, that $7k MasterCard felt like the backup dancer at a show with prizes worth over thirty grand! But then, just as I was about to doze off on Auction night, Oorah hit me up at 2am. For a moment, I thought I was winning the loser prize. To my surprise, it was the $7,000 Mastercard- because let's face it, there's nothing quite like a card to swipe with enthusiasm.

Swipe away with a preloaded $7,000 MasterCard gift card!

$7,000 VALUE

Prize #14

Prize #15

ARTSCROLL LIBRARY

Yitzchok Hisiger
ARTSCROLL

Listen, chevrah: I tried to negotiate with the powers that be to throw in a free interview with you if you win this prize. But they balked. But whether or not you appear on Inside ArtScroll, this is the Oorah prize you want.

It's books and sefarim galore.

And don't tell me that you don't have room in your house. Tell your wife that I'll help you make room. How does the saying go? If there's room in the heart, there's room in the home?

You know what you can get from ArtScroll with $4,000? A lot more than my own books, I'll tell you. There's good stuff to be had.

And while you get yourself a Shas and some other ArtScroll classics, be sure to get your wife – yes, the one who gave you a hard time – some must-have ArtScroll cookbooks. Your wife will thank you, and your stomach will too.

Books and seforim for days, weeks, months, and years with $4,000 to spend at Artscroll, renowned publisher of seforim, story books, novels, and more

Prize #19

WEEKLY CASH

Take a load off with $100 a week for the next year to easily cover all those little extras and updates.

$5,200 VALUE

Rabbi Jonathan Gewirtz

COLUMNIST, INSPIRATIONAL WRITER

"Wanna double your money?" my Bubby would ask. "Fold it and put it in your pocket." Oorah has an even better way! For just $5, you can win $100 a week for a year! Now, $5 doubled is $10, which is the maaser you get to give to charity from each payment. Imagine, a year of mitzvos week in and week out, PLUS you get a $90 BONUS every week as a Thank You from Hashem. Even my Bubby would be proud!

Prize #20

FAMILY SHOPPING

From parents and teens to kids and babies to everyone in between, receive $2,000 for each family member to spend.

$2,000 PER FAMILY MEMBER

Luzer Myer
THE SUIT PLACE

Taking the family shopping can be a bit of a nightmare, but when you win $2,000 for each family member to spend, it can be simple! Don't make such a big deal about getting a suit, remember we only wear clothes because of the cheat of Adam Harishon and your kid will outgrow it soon anyway. Just choose anything that fits, and move on to the next item on your shopping list. I started Oorah when I was 14 years old by making the first fundraiser for them. Trust me, your $5 donation will be helping a great cause.

Prize #49

LOSERS PRIZE

Win the highly coveted, all-new, limited-edition Loser's sweatshirt. It's so cozy, you won't want to take it off! 1,000 winners!

1,000 WINNERS!

Mordechai Schmutter

HUMOR WRITER

In a sweepstakes with prizes such as trips to Eretz Yisrael and new cars, I managed to have enough zechusim to win a sweatshirt that says "winner" on it. And even this prize is a loser's prize, because every moisd tells me I can't enter wearing a sweatshirt that has a logo. But it definitely keeps me warm outside the moisd when I'm on the roof with my ear to the skylight. (The only reason I'm putting in for another sweatshirt this year is because I lost last year's.)

Prize #50

TORAHMATES

Making Torah Accessible for Every Jew

► What is TorahMates?

TorahMates began as a project of Oorah in 1982 with just a small pool of volunteers. The plan was simple—join two Jews together, and let them learn! The program soon grew and today there are over 11,000 people all over the world learning weekly over the phone, taking the next step on their journeys home.

► Who can be a TorahMate?

All of our volunteers are regular men and women who have some extra knowledge and are happy to share it with a fellow Yid looking to learn. With Oorah staff on standby to answer any questions if needed, these partnerships baruch Hashem flourish and grow each week beyond imagination.

“ I am taking baby steps, adding new mitzvot to my daily routine.

The Grocery Tour

Devorah and Amanda had just connected when Amanda dropped the news. "I want to learn about kashering my kitchen!" she announced to her brand new TorahMate.

"That's incredible!" Devorah enthused. "What do you know so far about keeping kosher?"

"Well, nothing so far I guess."

Devorah took matters into her own hands. The very next day, she took Amanda on a tour of the grocery aisles, pointing out the various kosher symbols on different products, the importance of meat and dairy separation, tips on how to check fruits and vegetables for bugs, and the process of kashering existing kitchenware or purchasing new items if necessary.

Amanda left the store knowing she now had the skills to begin the process of kashering her home, but more than that, a friend and mentor who was going to be with her every step of the way.

Keeping a Year-round Connection

Every camper in TheZone is paired with a staff member as their TorahMate. Between daily learning time and exciting programming, these staff members become the frum role models whom the campers can learn and grow with beyond the summer's end.

On a Roll

My camper Josh was on a trip with his public school. He has never missed a day putting on tefillin since his bar mitzva. Before he went on the trip he called his TorahMate Avrumy Schwartz and told him "Today I'm not going to put on my tefillin because I'm with my public school friends and I'm scared they're going to make fun of me."

Avrumy convinced him otherwise and Josh decided to put on his tefillin. Not only didn't his friends make fun of him, he has a classmate that is Jewish and he asked Josh to help him put on tefillin. It was the first time Josh's friend put on tefillin since his bar mitzva. What a zechus!

Children Bring the Inspiration Home

One by One

At the annual women's TorahMates retreat, Nancy took an undeniably big step when she observed her very first Shabbos. Shocked and bolstered by the unanimous admiration and support of all the women there, she returned home inspired to make a change. Her children, in Jewish schools through Oorah's tuition program, were so excited to hear of her new commitment and promised to keep Shabbos along with her. When she returned to TheZone for a family Shabbos a while later, she was already keeping her eleventh Shabbos in a row. And that same week, her husband kept his first.

Bonds of Love

Avi celebrated his bar mitzvah this year, a beautiful and joyous event for everyone there— especially sentimental for those who knew Avi had switched from public school to yeshiva just two short years ago. Most touching of all, Avi wasn't the only one proudly strapping on his tefillin that day. He showed one special guest how to put on tefillin too; his grandfather, who hadn't put on tefillin since his very own bar mitzvah, decades before!

“ We never get to light candles properly for Shabbat! ”

A Shabbos Promise

Eva was a busy mother, wife, full-time employee, and TorahMate. One week, her children, proud members of Oorah's tuition program, asked her, “Why do you come home so late on Fridays? We never get to light candles properly for Shabbat!” Like any mother, she could never be immune to her children's cries. Shaken by her children's words, she left her job and found a new position where her family can now bring in and celebrate Shabbos properly.

SHTEIGERS

Israel is for Growing

Members of the Shteigers program embark on a year of unbelievable growth and connection right in the heart of Yerushalayim. Besides for financial help to attend yeshiva and seminary, every aspect of the Shteigers program is then designed to ensure they can take advantage and have the most impactful and fulfilling year imaginable there.

“We are so lucky that Oorah is with Jackson even in Israel! No one loves his ChillZone family more- thank you DiscoverU for everything you continue to do to help our kids in Israel connect to their heritage and spirituality.”

“ChillZone Jerusalem is giving the girls a chance to connect to better times, and gain strength for the rest of the week.”

DiscoverU (Pre-Israel)

A two-week summer program sets students up for success for their upcoming year in Eretz Yisroel with daily inspiration, gemara learning for the guys and shiurim for the girls, and what to expect for their year of growth in the heart of Yerushalayim.

ChillZone

A Motzaei Shabbos program that provides a great boost to students' spiritual growth, providing real Beis Midrash learning with fun activities for the guys, and a fantastic program for the girls, run by amazing volunteers.

ShabbaZone

Oorah hosts an annual gala ShabbaZone, plus smaller ShabbaZones occur throughout the year. Shteigers come together for an unforgettable and uplifting Shabbos experience, complete with inspiration and achdus all weekend long.

FROM PRE-K TO KOLLEL

Learning Torah Never Stops

Oorah's Little Star Preschool

"The highlight of the kids' week is our Shabbat Sing, where all the kids get together in one room for Shabbos party and songs. They love it, and their parents love that their kids are surrounded by this. On a random Monday morning too, you'll hear Shalom Aleichem coming from one of the classrooms. The kids are just sitting and playing, and singing their hearts out. It's the most heartwarming thing."

Little Star Preschool is a division of Oorah in Staten Island, designed to offer a Jewish preschool to the children of the Staten Island community.

The Oorah Dirah

Many of our boys come back from a year in Eretz Yisroel on a high. But after a year spent in the holiest of lands, returning to the reality of family and friends who don't understand your new lifestyle can be challenging.

Our solution? The Dirah on Lex gives these boys a home right in the heart of Lakewood, where they can take in the sights, live with like-minded people, and have the room they need to reach their potential. With a bustling night seder, the support of friends and mentors, and Shabbasim plus events throughout the year, the Dirah quickly becomes home.

Alumni Kollel

What greater nachas is there than a former Zoniac or spouse learning full-time in kollel? Oorah steps in with an initiative designed to provide financial support to this group of exceptional individuals who are, against all odds, pursuing a life of dedicated Torah study.

“When you're around people who are also changing, also growing, you can grow too.”

THE MIRACULOUS QUEST

A Journey from Public School to Yeshiva

“Getting even one child to transfer from public school to yeshiva is a miracle,” says Rabbi Motti Cohen, Oorah’s Community Liaison. “The fact that we help hundreds do just that is nothing short of mind-blowing.”

The numbers are indeed gratifying. Just this year alone, over 2,000 children joined yeshivos and day schools. 244 boys and girls flew off to learn in yeshiva and seminary in Eretz Yisroel. Oorah’s Little Star Preschool welcomed tens of children for a year of learning and transformation. 577 of these kids were going to a Jewish school for the first time.

And each child is a triumph, a story of perseverance and determination against the backdrop of myriad challenges.

The Triumvirate

When an eight year old boy, Uriel, showed up to school one day with tzitzis, his non-Jewish friends took one look at him and right away exclaimed, “You don’t belong here!”

When Zoniacs meet Rav Hillel David, many ask for a brocha that their parents allow them to switch from Public School to Yeshiva.

And they were right.

Shaken awake by what mere children could somehow see so simply, Uriel’s family reached out to Oorah and immediately started the process of transferring to yeshiva.

But it’s not always that simple. In order for a child to transfer from public school to yeshiva, the perfect trifecta must be achieved: the child has to want to go, the parents have to agree to send him, and they have to find a school that fits their educational standards and financial needs, that is willing to accept them—a more challenging task than one might think.

How Do We Get There?

Getting just one child into a Jewish school can sometimes take months, or even years, of planning. Rabbi Asher Moskovits, a member of Oorah’s Tuition Committee, shares that he meets with parents during TheZone’s visiting day and try to start the conversation then.

“Each mashpia knows what schools their campers are in. They reach out to the parents at the beginning of the summer and then on visiting day, they’ll bring parents over to Rav Chaim Mintz to discuss the potential of switching to yeshiva.”

Financial constraints often top the list, and this is where Oorah steps in with scholarships for parents who learn with a TorahMate. Rav Chaim Mintz, Oorah’s founder, and Rav Avi Davidowitz, camp rabbi of the girls’ division, meet with parents from the very beginning of visiting day until the very end, guiding, explaining, and encouraging. Concerns about choosing the right Jewish school that will still provide a solid education are met with expert guidance from Oorah, ensuring families find the perfect fit.

Once the parents are on board, Oorah’s tuition team will step in to help them find the right school and make the necessary financial arrangements, working tirelessly to support each family and their specific needs— whether that’s speaking to the school to try and get the child accepted, arranging tuition breaks for the family, or simply helping the family navigate these new waters.

In fact, they’ll often put the school in touch with TheZone counselors and staff who can vouch for the child and act as references. The same mashpia who advocated for the child’s neshama to his or her parents will now advocate for that same child’s neshama to the school. And slowly, the pieces baruch Hashem begin to come together.

Acclimating to a new environment can also be daunting, but Oorah provides invaluable support through TorahMates for the parents and Junior TorahMates for the children.

Over the years, Oorah’s Tuition Assistance Program has evolved and expanded. This growth represents not just a numerical increase but also an expansion of opportunities for countless families seeking a Jewish education.

The Impact

The impact of Oorah’s Tuition Assistance Program extends far beyond individuals. “It transforms the entire family,” Rabbi Cohen shares. It has reshaped the educational landscape for students and their families, opening up new windows of opportunity and ensuring that Jewish education and lifestyle remain accessible to all who seek it. By aligning the needs of the child, the parents, and the school, a trifecta of alignment has been achieved that has transformed the lives of thousands.

School Packages

Thinking of You

For families celebrating yom tov, many for the first time, or in far-out communities without easy access to all the necessary items that fill stores around the yomim tovim, a package for yom tov reminds them that we're thinking of them.

Bringing Yom Tov to life

Kids who transferred to Jewish schools start coming home with new songs, projects, and stories that parents may not recognize. These packages help bring the lessons to life and give the parents a chance to experience Yom Tov and learn along with their children.

Enhance Yom Tov

Packed with holiday essentials and extras, Oorah packages help bring that yom tov festivity and spirit into thousands of homes across the country.

Keeping the Connection

Oorah may have thousands of families in their programs, but they aim to maintain a personal relationship with each one.

“What a Joy!!! Got Sukkot gift from you and have tears in my eyes because of your thoughtfulness & your care!!!”

THEZONE CAMP

The Funnest Immersive Jewish Experience

Hiiiiiii

Heyyyy

How are you doing????

I'm good

It's my second time keeping
Shabbos at home

And my first time doing
havdalla at home

Our staff create a 24/7 immersive Torah environment in the funnest Jewish summer camp. With every mitzvah observed, every tefillah learned, and every tzitzis string kissed, a profound bond is formed, fostering a love for Yiddishkeit that will no doubt illuminate journeys ahead. At TheZone, kids learn it's geshmak to be a Yid!

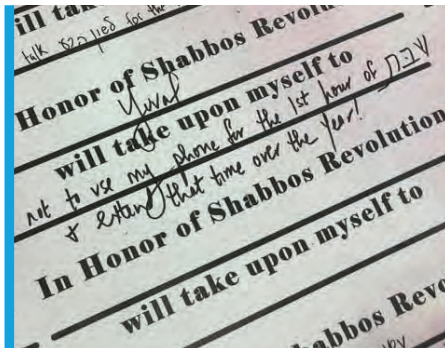

The connection and inspiration continues after camp is over.

Kishka and Kibbe are Shabbos-keeping, kosher-eating, mitzvah-doing Zoniacs! These two famed Zone mascots are responsible for bringing positive energy and excitement to the camp, as well as serving as role models for our campers, imparting important values and mitzvos.

Campers get the chance to make and bring home their own pair of tzitzis

Zoniacs take on kabbalos in order to bring the kedusha home with them

LIKE DAUGHTER LIKE MOTHER

When Carol visited her daughter during visiting day in camp, she was amazed at the warmth of the staff, the hustle and bustle of the campus, and the fun and excitement she saw all around her.

The first thing her daughter, Eden, told her was "I love my TorahMate!" She then introduced her mother to Rivka from Lakewood. Carol was so inspired that out of all things TheZone has to offer Eden, a TorahMate was the most exciting thing to her daughter- more than any zipline, theme day, or horseback riding. She signed up for a TorahMate of her own that very same day.

Cocoa Club: Optional learning before davening, an opportunity grabbed by many

COLOR WAR + CA

“Every moment is an opportunity that the staff members grab and fill with meaning.”

Time to break out color war!

In TheZone, that means it's time for the mashpiim to think about what lessons they want the kids to bring home with them: how a Yid wins, how a Yid loses, and cheering for the other team, all besides for the theme and message of color war itself.

Team Shabbos Song Lyrics

Shabbos in TheZone is my time
The day to connect to Hashem
Food singing friendships and fun
TheZone my family will always be one

Even through the year when I'll be gone
I know that with my friends I will stay strong
I hold you close to me Oorah just know
U have changed me for eternity

NTEEN = KIRUV

Late night canteen cahoots?

It's the perfect time for a staff member to sit down with a kid and connect to him in a more real way than the hustle and bustle of the day allows. Colorful signs announcing the brachos of the foods served and clearly marked fleishig and milchig sides teach the campers about Kashrus in the kitchen.

At TheZone, each of these seemingly commonplace occurrences are laced with intention, every moment is an opportunity that the mashpiim and staff members grab and fill with meaning, not willing to waste a second of precious time before the campers leave and go home for the year. From Color War to Canteen; sports to shabbos zemiros.

Theme days including Rabbis Day, Potato Kugel Day, Challah Day and more are invaluable opportunities to interweave invaluable lessons of Yiddishkeit with fun, hands-on experience.

Every wave good morning, every new cheer they sing, every trip they plan— TheZone staff transform the ordinary to the extraordinary, ensuring that when the campers leave, they carry with them so much more than just memories of a fun summer.

THEZONE STAFF

Thank You to all our staff members for helping us bring back Acheinu Bnei Yisroel.

The Great Return

It was the second to last week of ChillZone and Travis finished learning with Meir, his chavrusah. He turned to Meir and shared that the next week he would be away with his family. Travis looked at him and with tears in his eyes said, "I guess the next time I'll see you is next year."

But to Meir's surprise the next week, the door opened and in walked Travis - followed closely behind by his father and mother! Meir was in shock. Travis not only did the impossible, but he also got his whole family to detour on their way home and brought them all along. "There was no way I would have missed ChillZone," Travis said. "Especially not the last week."

OORAH EVENTS

Shabbos & Yom Tov with the Oorah Family

You can't look at yom tov or Shabbos the same after attending an Oorah event. Hundreds of people from all walks of life come together to experience an authentic yom tov in an immersive environment of kedusha— and what a yom tov it is! Moving tefillos, inspiring meals, TorahMates, Ask the Rabbi and more leave an indescribable warmth in the atmosphere that leaves an indelible mark. No one leaves as the same person they came in— questions are answered, connections are made, and beginnings begin.

AN UNLIKELY FRIEND

One TorahMate's Eternal Impact

It's been a very sad and tumultuous past few weeks. On September 23rd my mother passed away peacefully in her sleep. Weeks later Israel was overcome by great evil forces. I pray for the people of Israel and family you may have in harms way.

With all that's been happening, I still feel compelled to express my extreme gratitude towards the TorahMates program and moreover my TorahMate, Rabbi Ari F.

My introduction into the TorahMates program ignited a friendship between two very different people, unlikely to become friends one day. Me from a Reform Judaism background and Ari from an Orthodox Judaism background. It's been forty plus years since I have read Torah or even had the desire to study it. My time with Rabbi Ari has been life changing for me. I have never felt closer to G-d or my Judaism. Our weekly meetings studying Torah have become the highlight of my week. I am beyond grateful for the peace it has brought to my heart and most of all, the friendship I have formed with my TorahMate and his family as well.

Ari helped rekindle my love for Torah and Judaism. He has welcomed me into his home for Shabbat as well as many holiday celebrations. It's been my joy to have dinners with his family and play with his children. I have learned so much more than just simply studying Torah, too numerous to list...too great to find the proper words to explain.

The greatest gift Rabbi Ari gave me was in the form of a loving text on the day of my mom's passing. My father died several years ago and it was his wish to be cremated and he laid that plan out for my mom as well, however it never dawned on me to ask if that was actually her wish. In the weeks leading up to my mom's unexpected death I began to expose my mom to some of the spiritual lessons I learned studying with my TorahMate.

On the Thursday prior to my mom's passing, I was due to meet Rabbi F for our weekly Torah study session. However, on this day I needed to check on my mom's care. So Ari offered to come meet at my mom's apartment instead. It turned out to be the last day I would spend with my mom. Together with my new "Unlikely Friend" (my TorahMate) we had a beautiful visit with my mom, we chatted, we laughed, reminisced, and said prayers together. It was a day I will forever cherish. It's the final memory I have with my mother.

So now to that loving text from Rabbi Ari... he lovingly asked that I reconsider the cremation of my mom. In my heart and soul with all that I have learned it didn't feel right that this would be the way I would lay my mom to rest. With Ari's encouragement and wisdom, I called a family meeting to request everyone's support in the decision to give my mom a proper funeral based on Jewish values and tradition.

Ari was by my side during the entire process, teaching me how I could honor my mom and her soul with a traditional Jewish funeral. Ari helped me with a Tahara service that he coordinated for me. For me, never experiencing a traditional orthodox funeral, it gave me great peace to honor my mom in a way I could never imagine. Down to the very last shovel of earth, completing the burial of my beloved mother with family, friends and especially my "Unlikely TorahMate Friend"...Rabbi Ari helped me to feel honor and pride in being Jewish like I've never felt before.

It never dawned on me to ask if that was actually her wish.

Thank you for the amazing TorahMates program, thank you for the lessons I've learned, thank you for the peaceful heart your program has cultivated in me, and most of all Thank you the "Unlikely Friendship" I've made with Rabbi Ari F.

Ari and Michael live in Orlando, FL and have been learning for two full years together.

A TIME OF WAR, A Time of Growth

Many were Inspired to Take Concrete Steps in Yiddishkeit

With the war raging in Israel, we wanted to mobilize our large pool of contacts to do something to help. So when coordinators began personally reaching out to their thousands of TorahMates to ask them to learn an extra 5 minutes a week as a shmira for our brothers and sisters in Eretz Yisroel, they were heartened and emboldened by the response. Not only did every TorahMate respond with an outpouring of love and enthusiasm, many of shared that they had already decided on their own to add time. Still others shared new mitzvos that they had taken on as a zechus for Am Yisroel - Shabbos, tefillin, and more. The Oorah Family always does their part!

Mitzvah Goreres Mitzvah

"I just spoke to a mother who's daughter is a Junior TorahMate. She shared that the family started keeping Shabbos since she attended the TorahMates retreat! Her daughter now shares at the Shabbos table all the lessons she learns with her TorahMate. The mother has secular family whom she inspired to light candles and have challah this week as a zechus for the situation in Eretz Yisroel. Also, her brother put on tefillin for the first time!"

Tefillin for Two

"Hi, just wanted to share our growth. My husband put on tefillin, that Oorah gave us, for the first time! My son had the honor of showing him how, also with the tefillin that Oorah gifted us. He did it in hopes that it helps our brothers and sisters in Israel."

“Thank you so much for helping impart the beauty of Judaism in this tragic time.”

Reawakened

"Michelle reached out to me over sukkos – I hadn't heard from her in 4 months! Then I saw an email from Oorah saying in the zechus of a yeshua, now's the time to learn with your TorahMate. I called Michelle the next day and caught up with her. That Friday, she lit Shabbos candles for the first time in her life for the zechus of the soldiers and Israel."

Commitment to Cover

"My daughter's TorahMate decided to cover her hair with a Shaitel as a zechus for the matzav in Eretz Yisrael! She wasn't even keeping Shabbos before joining Oorah! She is now sending her 2 children to yeshiva, keeping Shabbos and is ready to cover her hair properly. She said she will cover her hair all the way without any hair showing! She didn't have enough money for a shaitel and within 3 minutes, my daughter got more than enough money from her friends who wanted to join the zechus."

FROM ISOLATION TO ILLUMINATION

It All Started on Erev Pesach

In the bustling heart of New York, amidst the mosaic of cultures, she was a loner in her own world. Noa was used to being known as the “one Jew—” but wasn’t sure why it much mattered to anyone. Her family’s history, long scarred by the shadow of religious suppression, had cast a daunting shadow over their connection to their heritage. But though she didn’t know it, Noa’s life was destined for an extraordinary transformation—one that would ignite her spirit, nurture her roots, and carve a profound sense of belonging.

It began with a simple suggestion from her mother: explore Jewish summer camps to learn more about her roots. A click later, they stumbled upon TheZone, a camp that promised more than adventure, warmth and reconnection. Noa was captivated by its allure, from the fun she saw on the website to the promises of belonging it held. Despite her apprehensions about the unknown, she made a decision that would forever alter her destiny.

Because of her nerves about the summer ahead, her mother suggested she attend one of Oorah’s well-known yomim tovim events held throughout the year, conveniently located on the same Zone campus where children would attend camp later that summer. She agreed, and the turning point arrived right as Noa entered those gates of TheZone for the first time on erev Pesach.

Anxiety and uncertainty gripped her, but what unfolded was beyond her wildest dreams. In the warm embrace of the camp, Noa found acceptance and warmth. Her lack of knowledge didn’t draw judgment; instead, she was enveloped by a community that understood her past and welcomed her with open arms.

Pesach was an experience of unity that transcended her wildest expectations. People from diverse backgrounds came together to celebrate a tradition spanning millennia, and Noa found her place among them.

She couldn’t wait to come back that summer.

That year, with unwavering patience and guidance, she began to unravel her roots and forge a deep spiritual connection. The day she was able to recite her first tefillah marked the beginning of a deep-rooted commitment to learn and grow. TheZone became her haven, a place she returned to for the summer months, Sukkos, Shabbos, and even another Pesach. Each visit strengthened her newfound passion for learning and ruchnius; she was now surrounded by kindred spirits who supported her unconditionally.

This summer, Noa returned once more for camp, solidifying her ties to her Jewish heritage and her newfound community. She kept Shabbos and davened without fear of judgment, never for a second taking for granted the opportunity she was being given.

Throughout her journey, Noa extended her gratitude to the mentors and friends who illuminated her path. From her TorahMate to her counselor to every person she met along the way, each played a vital role in her transformation. Above all, she acknowledged Hashem for opening her eyes to a world she had long overlooked.

Noa’s story is a poignant reminder of the neshamos that await rekindling. It’s a narrative of self-discovery, spiritual reawakening, and the enduring bonds of our birthright. TheZone did more than offer Noa a sense of belonging—it breathed life into what always existed, reigniting her connection with Hashem and letting her see, for the very first time, the profound splendor of her heritage and what had always belonged to her.
